AIM AND SCOPE

VULJ: Victoria University Law and Justice Journal is the flagship journal of the College of Law and Justice. VULJ is a generalist student-run law publication, under the supervision of an academic managing editor. VULJ aims to promote high-quality legal scholarship to all users including academics, practitioners and students. The articles featured in VULJ are generally shorter and more topical than in traditional legal publications.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS

All articles featured in VULJ are refereed by at least two anonymous referees. Referees include domestic and international experts in a given area of law.

Contributors are advised to submit their manuscripts in electronic form through our website: <http://vulj.vu.edu.au>. All submission guidelines and further related information can be found on our website.

Submissions should:

Include an abstract of 100–200 words

Comply to a word limit of 4000–6000 words (excluding abstract and footnotes)

Comply with the most recent Australian Guide to Legal Citation

Include citations in the form of footnotes. Bibliographies are not required

PUBLICATION DATES AND PROCESS

Once the Editors have successfully received a manuscript it will be immediately screened by the Editors to ensure that the minimum procedural criteria have been satisfied. The Editors aim to notify contributors of the outcome of this review within one week.

All manuscripts successful beyond the initial review are forwarded to an expert in a given area of law. Once the first reviewer recommends the article for publication, the manuscript is forwarded to a second reviewer for commentary.

Once the article has been through the peer review process, the Editors will make a final decision on whether to make the author a conditional publication offer. Should the author accept, the article will become the official copyright of VULJ.

Contributors will be able to track the publication process via our website. Further details are available on our website: vulj.vu.edu.au.

BACK ISSUES

Electronic versions are available from our website: <http://vulj.vu.edu.au>
